What evidence is there that Imaam Anwar al-Aulaqi was present in that gathering in the first place?

This was a gathering of staunch al-Qaa'idah soldiers from what I have read... why would Imaam Anwar al-Aulaqi be there in the first place? This is just a delusion that the media managed to pull before the ignorant's eyes by their careful choice of wordings.

Not only that, those killed in the raid were not only soldiers, but also amongst them many women and children - may Allaah have mercy on them.

How do the prancing monkeys feel about rejoicing at the thought that "santa" gave them a grande christmas present - the death of al-Aulaqi?

[Muhammad is no more than a Messenger, and indeed \(many\) Messengers have passed away before him. If he dies or is killed, will you then turn back on your heels \(as disbelievers\)? And he who turns back on his heels, not the least harm will he do to Allâh, and Allâh will give reward to those who are grateful. \[Aal Imraan \(003:144\)\]](#)

This is what Allaah said about His last and final messenger, the best of creation. There are many others like al-Aulaqi, and if he dies a hundred more like him will arise, alhamdulillaah. So what is there to grieve about, when Allaah will grant him what he prays for?
